

Anna Cole

Ph.D. Candidate, Cancer Biology
Second Year ARCS Scholar
Glenn Award

EMORY UNIVERSITY

Adoptive Cell Therapy harnesses a patient's immune system to fight cancer. We want to understand why it works in some cases, but not others and to improve upon it.

I would like to acknowledge my advisor Chrystal Paulos and those that have helped in the Paulos Lab, especially Hannah Knochelmann.

